

Quality in Postgraduate Research:
Re-imagining Research Education
Sixth International Conference

Thursday 22 April and Friday 23 April 2004

The Quality in Postgraduate Research conferences provide an opportunity to debate the latest policies affecting postgraduate education; to exchange views on current research and good practice in the field; and to link special staff and student interest groups. Policy makers, supervisors, postgraduate administrators, educational researchers, postgraduate students, academic developers and industry representatives attend the conferences.

For the purposes of the conference, postgraduate research refers to higher degrees which have a substantial amount of research as a major component.

Venue

The Stamford Grand Hotel stands proudly on the foreshore of Glenelg, South Australia. This beautiful hotel is located 10 minutes from the Adelaide airport and is close to Adelaide's City Centre, 30 minutes by tram ride. It is ideally located in the heart of this bustling seaside community. The Stamford Grand Hotel houses a number of restaurants, two bars and a coffee shop.

Further Information: <http://www.canberra.edu.au/celts/QPR2004>